Fungal Infections treated by us

Brief

Fungal infection (mycosis) is a very common disease. Fungus can affect any part of the body but increasingly doctors at Kayakalp Global have found a higher incidence of fungal infection on the skin. Fungi usually live in warm and moist areas where skin surfaces meet such as genital areas, toes, under the breast. They mostly live on the topmost layer of skin and rarely penetrate deeper. Obese people with poor hygiene often encounter this disease due to excessive skin folds that is good habitat for fungus.

Why Kayakalp Global? (Why did your old treatment fail?)

At Kayakalp Global, we pride ourselves in treating fungal infections by using integrative medicine.

1. Once the main symptom subsides which is itching, patients become casual towards their treatment and even abruptly stop taking treatment. This makes the fungal infection resistant.
2. Since fungus is communicable from one person to another, family members can get fungus from the patient.
3. From a small patch it can spread to full body because our bathing towel got infected and fungal reaches on other parts of body.
4. On scratching a fungal patch the infection can enter nails. It is very difficult to treat nails infected with fungal infection.
5. Infection from hands and nails can infect scalp and hair roots, which is again a very serious issue as treatment for fungal infections in scalp also take a very long time.
6. Patients who are diabetic or using any steroids are at more risk of severe fungal infections that can spread to other body organs.
7. Most of patients who visit our clinic are using irregular treatment or are being treated with substandard medicines which make infection more resistant

AYURVEDA HAS A CURE FOR RESISTANT FUNGUS

FAQs About Fungus

Q. HOW CAN AYURVEDA HELP?

A. Ayurveda medicines at Kayakalp Global have been studied for side effects and heavy metals. These drugs help by improving immunity and purifying the blood of free radicals and toxins. Moreover, long term allopathy medicine can be liver toxic which is not the case with Ayurveda. By supplementing Ayurveda medicine with allopathy, Kayakalp has found the cure to resistant fungal infections in today's modern world.

Q. CAN IT ALSO SPREAD TO MY NAILS AND HAIR?

A. Yes, Fungus is notorious for this. When you itch the fungus will get collected in your nails and from there can spread to your face, nails and any other body part including scalp. Nail and scalp fungal infections are extremely difficult to treat.

Q. HOW LONG WILL MY TREATMENT LAST?

A. At Kayakalp Global, we have designed a comprehensive 1-month treatment plan for fungal patients after decades of experience in treating skin disorders. After 3 weeks, we ask our patients to send us blood reports. Further treatment depends on reports and response to treatment. Treatment usually lasts 1-3 months.

Q. CAN MY FAMILY MEMBERS GET IT FROM ME?

A. Fungal infection is a communicable disease which means it can spread from one person to another using common items such as towels etc. Patients must take extreme precautions to ensure safety of their loved ones as even after cure it is possible that they might get infected from an asymptomatic family member again.

Q. I HAVE DIABETES. WHAT SPECIAL CARE SHOULD I TAKE?

A. Individuals with diabetes mellitus have reduced immunity. As a result, they are more susceptible to fungal infections. As a diabetic, you should be regular with you diet monitoring, follow an active lifestyle, and continue to take your medicines prescribed by your medicine doctor without fail. Make sure to keep your sugars in check. It is always advisable to keep a glucometer at home.

Dr. Dhawan, B.A.M.S (Ayurvedacharya)

After graduating in 1992 from Guru Nanak Dev University in Bachelor of Ayurveda, Medicine and Surgery, Dr. Shailender Dhawan has spent the better part of his life in researching chronic skin conditions Vitiligo and Psoriasis.

Over the course of 30 years, he has successfully treated more than 30,000 Vitiligo and over 10,000 Psoriasis patients worldwide. Even as a student of traditional Ayurvedic sciences, Dr. Dhawan firmly believes it is imperative to treat the patient and not the disease and so believes in combining both Ayurvedic as well as modern medicine to treat the individual holistically.
